

Today's date

Morning _____ ,

Hoping this update finds you and yours well. As a reminder, I am currently seeking an operations/customer service leadership role so I can elevate the company's customer service to new and superior heights, and maximize the customer retention.

The job search continues and has been a busy month. Networking, networking and more networking. Have learned something very interesting as it relates to the current job market and that is relationships go farther than resumes.

Some of my target companies:

Rx Savings Solutions

Sun Life Financial

Great West Financial

Arrowhead Insurance

Should you have any advice or direction, I would be grateful. Lastly, if there is anything I can do for, do not hesitate and contact me directly.

Thanking you in advance,
